

Win A$ Much A$ You Can!

Rules Sheet

- There eight rounds to this game.
- The first four rounds are played after a short discussion with your team members, but, not between teams.
- The last four rounds are played after each team sends a representative to a designated negotiation room or area to discuss strategies and options with the other teams.
- After the negotiation, representatives will report back to their group as to the plan.
- Groups must then decide which card to hold up when called for by the facilitator.
- Each team must display only one card when call for by the facilitator.
- The pay-off is determined by the combination of cards held up by the four teams.
- Each team has a copy of the pay-offs for each possible combination.
- The pay-off for each round depends on the patterns of choices made by each team.
